LLOYD SHELTON, OF FANCY FARM, STRUCK IN CHEST.

Cassell Smith, of Graves County, Disappears and is Thought to He Drowned.

Mayfield, Ky., June 9. Sunday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock Lloyd Shelton, a young man about 18 years old, was killed at a bail game near Fancy Farm, by being hit in the chest by n baseball.

Young Shelton lived four miles west of Fancy Farm and drove to the gume of baseball with two other young friends and had just gotten ont of the buggy and was standing near the diamond when a swift ball Willis thrown by Harley Burkett, acrident ally struck him in the hreast und knocked him to the ground. Dr. Hig-R H E don, of Faucy Farm, was summoned 2 nt once, but before he reached the scene young Shelton was dead.

The young man lived about ter minutes after the ball struck him A large crowd was present at the game and naturally the death caused much excitement.

Lloyd Shelton was a son of Gus Shelton and was a well known young man with many friends.

Still suspecting something unusual in such a singular visit and admission at this hour of the morning, the guards escorted him to the council room and walted at attention in the doorway action, the men had resumed their accustomed posts, thinking no more as one of the unusual appointments which are made in such troublous times.

in less than an hour, during all of which time the guard at the door had heard voices in seening conversation participated in by the three persons with the room, he heard the emperor and the chanceltor burst into most unusual and hearty laughter. A few minutes later he was surprised when the emperor came from the room and went to his dressing chamber, from saying anything, and then addressing need from this office in various joils which he emerged in the platuest of

The puzzling feature of the occur rence was that the emperor must have be in acquainted and even on terms of fri ndliness with the mnn who decoyed because with the careful search tha had been made it was certain that there could have been no assassina tion uniess a most remarkable concent ment had been made of all evidences of the crime. Nor was it even tenable that the party had crossed the borde line, because in a condition of threat eucd war all travelers were being closely watched. Over every foot of the empire and into the most inaccessible portions search was being made for the place where the nation's tuler and the chancellor might be held; but so far there had been nothing whatever tha threw even the faintest ray of ligh on their whereabouts. The attempts of the secret service men and men bers of his majesty's lamily to keep his disappearance a secret falled, and indeed was unnecessary, for the people themselves had to be enlisted in a quest involving the whole country It was at this juncture that a R

"Well," said his superior questioningly, "what about the carriage?" The officer leaned over and spoke in a confidential tone. "The carriage was Alabama Congressman Will Not Ap that of the American ambassador!" The captain started back as if paralyzed. He imparted the news in an undertone to his comrades in the room and the excitement grew. They dared go no further in this quest without eonsulting those of higher authority, and gathered into a private chamber, the supreme head of the secret service | will not appear in court then department. The head of the secret service department saw that he was facing a very grave responsibility. He sent messages calling together the most important men in the government, and within an hour the findings were laid before them. They found themseives in a singularly embarrassing predicament. To take any action which might offend the representative of a nation which was siready engaged in trlumphant war, and of which the whole world stood in terror and apprehensiou, was something to be avoided. Even to auggest to the ambassador of the United States that he was suspected of having abducted the kaiser, an act of lese majesty in itself, was iomething which might arouse that man to appeal to his home government and topple Germany itself into an imhroglio which could end only in defeat. The attitude of America, up to moment when communication ceased, had been friendly. Therefore there seemed no logical reason for her taking any such unheard of action as that of interference with the pe son of his majesty. THREE MORE PRIZES

Three valuable prizes have been added to the already long list of valuable rewards for the hustling contestants in The Sun Popularity Contest.

They are two scholarships in the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., and one scholarship in the Paducah Central Business College.

These scholarships are transferrable and cover nine different courses: General Illustrating, Art, Book-keeping, Stenography and Civil Service.

These prizes will be awarded to the three persons securing either second, third or fourth highest number of votes in the three different districts.

This makes a grand total of eighteen prizes to be awarded in the great Sun Popularity Contest and represents an expenditure of $2,200 for prizes.

The contest has just begun; this is the third week; any new candidates desiring to enter the field may do so. Eighteen prizes; you certainly can win one.

OF DISEASE AND SUFFERING

No truth is more forcibly manifested in physical life than theold saying "like begets like;" for just as the offspring of healthy aucestry are blessed with pure, rich blood, insuring health and strength, so the children of blood tainted parentage inherit a polluted circulation to burden their existence with disease and suffering. Swollen glands about the neck, brittle bones, weak eyes, pale, waxy complexious, running sores and ulcers and general poor health, are the usual ways in which Scrofula is manifested. In some cases the blood is so filled with the scrofulous germs and tubercular matter that from birth life is made miserable with suffering. Others who inherit the disease succeed in holding the trouble in check during young, vigorous life, but when the system has begun to weaken and lose its natural vitality and especially after a spell of sickness, the ravages of the disease will com mence, and in a great many cases terminate in Consumption. S. S. S. is the very best treatment for Scrofula. It renovates the entire circulation and drives out the scrofulous and tubercular

PURELY VEGETABLE

deposits. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood urifiers, and it not only goes to the very bottom of the trouble and removes the cause and cures the disease, but it supplies the weak, anaemic blood with the healthful properties it is in need of. S. S. S. is made entirely of healing, cleansing roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. Book on the blood and any medical advice about Scrofula given free of charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA
